SATORI PROVIDES CLARIFYING DISCLOSURE

Toronto, Ontario – June 25 2014 – Satori Resources Inc. (TSXV:BUD) (“Satori” or the “Company”) announces the following corporate update, as it relates to its ongoing investigation of new projects, in each of the mining, agri-mineral, and medical marijuana sectors.

The Company is committed to its continuous negotiations in respect of a second proposed transaction in the medical marijuana sector, whether directly or indirectly. The transaction concluded with Jourdan Resources Inc. as announced on April 30, 2014 and May 7, 2014 allowed the Company to remain an Issuer categorized in the resource sector, and to introduce an anomalous element into the equation, namely, to be the partner evaluating and sourcing licensed medical marijuana operations to use samples of phosphate rock from the Company’s joint-venture project in Quebec as medium to improve yield and taste in licensed grow operations. Jourdan, as operator, advised that it will complete more work on the project once additional funding becomes available.

Building on the notion of combining Satori’s resource experience and business indirectly with the medical marijuana business, the Company further evaluated: (i) potential grow operations within a mine, which is no longer being considered due to excessive costs; and (ii) a transaction regarding a type of industrial mineral also in contemplation of being acquired as a potential natural medium for a slow release growth enhancer in the agri-mineral sector. Initial terms in the latter case have been proposed and vaguely discussed with an arms length party, however, no terms have been concluded and accordingly, no substantive due diligence has been undertaken at this stage.

Satori also pursued opportunities in the United States, and to date, due diligence has been unsatisfactory. Currently, the Company is engaged in discussions with companies and persons purporting to have, or to have made application for, medical marijuana licenses governed by Health Canada. Simultaneously, the Company is considering a product line that if feasible, may be a complimentary business with compliant license holders.

Pursuant to a review by the Ontario Securities Commission (OSC), it has requested that Satori clarify its activities, and to disclose certain risk factors within the medical marijuana sector. We therefore advise as follows:

- There is no assurance that the Company will conclude a new transaction within the medical marijuana sector, directly or indirectly.
- Should a new transaction be concluded, it is likely that applicable regulations will require Satori to call a shareholders meeting to approve a newly proposed transaction. There are no assurances that a proposed new transaction will be approved by the requisite number of votes required to complete a pending proposed transaction.
- On June 16, 2014 the Canadian Securities Administrators released an investor alert urging investors to be cautious when investing in medical marijuana companies. See <https://www.securities-administrators.ca/aboutcsa.aspx?id=1241>
- Cost estimates of the transactions being considered vary from one project to the next and accordingly, once a transaction is negotiated, if at all, the Company will disclose all cost estimates and purchase price;
- The board of directors of Satori have approved management to investigate newly proposed transactions within the medical marijuana sector, and should a transaction be negotiated, it would be subject to the receipt of board approval.
- Health Canada has rigorous rules and regulations that are required to be complied with on an ongoing basis, which adds significant costs to doing business in this industry, namely, extraordinary requirements to infrastructure and equipment including physical barriers, sophisticated video surveillance, air quality and filtration systems, and ultimately site visit inspection approval, all of which must be complied with prior to operating the business.

There is no assurance that the Company will conclude any new transaction, however, the process of evaluation involves detailed planning of a series of steps conducive to meeting all regulatory guidelines in the most efficient manner.
